LIBRARIAN'S REPORT

To the Citizens of Acworth:

One hundred twenty-five books have been added. Forty-six purchased, fifteen given by the state, and sixty-four given by friends. Sixty-three have been removed.

Sixteen magazines are purchased and a number given.

Two thousand seven hundred ninety-two books and one thousand seven hundred eighty-six magazines have been lent.

The outstanding feature of the year is the Bookmobile which has already been here three times; September 19, November 7 and December 16, leaving from eleven to fourteen books and collecting the same on their return trips. The Bookmobile also stops at the South and East Acworth schools and is much enjoyed.

Respectfully submitted,

SUPERINTENDENT'S REPORT

To the Acworth School Board:—

I hereby submit my ninth annual report as your superintendent of schools.

There has been no general change in the plans of our schools since my last report.

Miss Longa and Miss Lane accepted positions in other districts to begin work last fall. Miss Hazel Lewis was hired to teach at the Center School, and Miss Phyllis Adams to teach the East Acworth School. They are graduates of Keene Normal School, and each has had one year's experience. Miss Maud Moody continued her work at the South Acworth School. Late in the fall it seemed best to exchange the teachers in the East and South Schools.

At the present time good progress is being made in each of the schools. Quality of work depends on many things, not least of which are good attendance and good discipline.

Pupils in the rural schools have most of the materials with which to work that are found in city schools, and they have added advantages in having less outside demands on their time.

A study of the grade table shows that there will be some relief for the next five or six years in high school tuitions. It would be a great help to Acworth if the state would put the high school costs on an equalization basis something the same as is now done with elementary costs.

I wish to thank the Acworth School Board, the teachers and the parents for their help and loyalty.

Respectfully submitted,

WALTER L. MASON
